INTERNATIONAL GENEALOGICAL INDEX

The IGI (International Genealogical Index) is an index of baptisms and marriages in parish registers.

There are no deaths recorded on the IGI.

The IGI is compiled by the Family History Library of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (LDS). It does not claim to be complete and is updated every 4 years.

The Local Studies & Family History library holds the IGI on microfiche for England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Isle of Man, Channel Islands, New Zealand and the United States.

To use the IGI you need to know in which county the event took place, the name of your ancestor and the approximate year of the event you wish to find.

To discover whether your ancestor's parish has been entered on the IGI you can either use the latest edition of the Parish & Vital Records List issued by LDS or, for the UK, check the Phillimore atlas and index of parish registers.

The Parish & Vital Records List on microfiche is filed at the beginning of the IGI. It tells you which records appear on the current IGI and the records being prepared for inclusion in future editions. This is helpful if you cannot locate an ancestor on the indexes because it may mean that the relevant parish has not yet been filmed.

For England, records date from 1538 to 1870 (with fewer listings closer to 1870).

A later version of the IGI is available to search online at www.familysearch.com.
